AGWAY ACCELERATOR HAY AND SILAGE CONDITIONER

Reduced drying time

The Agway Accelerator hay and silage conditioner is designed to provide far faster drying than would normally be achieved with a mower conditioner or by tedding and rowing up.

Two crimping rollers bend and crack the stem to provide a far more aggressive conditioning action than a conditioning unit on a mower. In addition, the rollers accelerate the flow of the crop, and this in conjunction with its aggressive crimping action leaves a 'fluffed-up' swath through which air can circulate far better than if it had just been tedded.

By achieving an improved crimping action, drying time can be reduced by as much as a day, helping you achieve improved timeliness, better quality and increased profitability.

Raised – The Agway Accelerator has plenty of ground clearance for transport or crop clearance in the field.

The two steel rollers each have 11 crimping ridges to provide a more aggressive crimping action. The spring loaded top roller can be tightened for a more aggressive crimping action but still allowing protection from foreign objects and heavy lumps of grass by letting them pass through unhindered.

Lowered – The low working position ensures no grass is missed.

The heavy duty chain drive reliably transfers power from the slip-clutch protected gearbox to each of the rollers. A pivoting jack shaft ensures consistent tension regardless of roller setting.

The rear side and top deflectors on the Accelerator can be set to either spread and 'fluff-up' the crop or brought in to row-up for baling.
